

PREPARATIONS ARE COMPLETE FOR NEW DRAFT ENROLLMENT

REGISTRATION OF MEN
BETWEEN 18 AND 45 TO
TAKE PLACE TOMORROW

All Males Not Yet Enrolled Will Report at Various Polling Places.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Local Draft Boards Have Registration Machinery Ready to Set in Motion; Boards Nos. 2 and 5 Expect
Total Enrollment of Six Thousand.

Tomorrow between the hours of 7 o'clock in the morning and 9 o'clock in the evening all men between the ages of 18 and 45 years inclusive who have not already registered for selective military service will enroll at the different polling places in the city and county in Connellsville proper, all males will enroll at the polls in the seven wards and in the outlying territory of Districts No. 2 and 5, registration will take place at headquarters previously announced.

Ample supplies for registration purposes have been received by all local boards and preparation to the enrollment are complete in order that each and every man who is to be made to have officials at the various plans to enroll the men.

A number of men in this city have already been registered, enrolling at the armory. The majority of these men are railroaders who do not expect to be in the city on Thursday. Others who may not be here to register on Thursday should go to the armory and register now.

The bars will be closed on registration day, Governor Brumbaugh urging it and the Fayette County Hotelkeepers Association also requests it.

Recognition of the Czech-Slovak as a nation by the United States changes the status of natives of those states which formerly formed a part of the dual monarchy. The status of the Czech-Slovak is explained by a statement issued by the Uniontown Czech-Slovak Press Bureau which says:

"Everybody must register on Thursday September 12, no matter whether a citizen or not. When asked what nationality you are say Czechoslovak, no matter whether you are a Czech (Bohemian) or a Slovak always say that you are a Czech-Slovak. When asked where you were born don't say Austria-Hungary, we are now recognized by the American government so instead say Bohemia, Slovakia, Silesia or Moravia, wherever the place may be but like that Austria-Hungary out of your head and never use it any more or you will be classed as an enemy alien and will be treated as such. When you come to question 15 which is if not a citizen of the United States of what nation are you citizen or subject, simply say Czechoslovak."

Chief registrars and their assistants appointed several weeks ago by the local draft boards will be on hand tomorrow. Men who will enroll are asked not to wait until evening to go to the polling places but to register as soon as possible to avoid causing a rush at the last few moments.

District No. 5 expects to register about 3,000 men and Local Board for District No. 2 will probably have between 3,200 and 3,500 men.

Men living in the following precincts will be registered under Local Board No. 2 and will enroll at the various polling places in their district, the persons named being the registrars:

First ward P. J. Harrigan
Second ward A. A. Clarke
Third ward A. O. Bixler
Fourth ward Vincent H. Scisson
Fifth ward I. R. Graham
Sixth ward Cooper Patterson
Seventh ward, Gaetano Corrado
Bullskin township No. 2 Norman Jones
Bullskin township No. 3 Henry Hoffer
Connellsville township No. 1 George Blackstone

MANY AT DAWSON
ON OPENING DAY
OF ANNUAL FAIR

Several Thousand See Races in Afternoon Won by Silent
Annie.

LIVESTOCK SHOW IS GOOD

Some of the Best Blooded Stock in County and State Are on Exhibition at Fair; Record Crowd is Expected at Park Tomorrow Afternoon.

The Fayette County Fair Association opened its annual fair at Dawson yesterday with a big crowd in attendance for the first day. Several thousands saw the races in the afternoon and throughout the day hundreds moved in and out of the buildings where live stock and other farm products were on exhibition.

The feature of the day was the races in which Silent Annie took the 222 pace in three straight heats. After the first heat Billy S. pushed the winner to its utmost stalling the best race on the program.

The midway has many additional attractions this year and the fair is of even more interest this year than last. The live stock exhibitions are especially good some of the finest blood in the county and state having been taken to the driving park for the fair.

Today the excellent weather brought out a much larger crowd and persons began to arrive early giving them time to go over the exhibits before the opening of the races. Tomorrow afternoon will be the biggest day of the week. The best races of the fair have been scheduled for tomorrow and four will be staged. The horses competing at the driving park this year are the best in the state having been attracted by the large purses offered.

The fair will close Friday evening but the program is full of all kinds of entertainment up to the last moment. Although Thursday is called the "big day" an attendance of several thousand at the park Friday is expected.

MILL RUN AUXILIARY

Of The Red Cross Turns Out to Meet
Branch Department Supervisors.

A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Mill Run auxiliary of the Connellsville branch of the Red Cross was held last evening, the occasion being a visit to the auxiliary by the heads of the departments of the Connellsville branch.

Mrs. Louise Reynolds, supervisor of hospital garments and supplies, Miss Harriet Clark, supervisor of knitting and Mrs. John L. Gans, supervisor of surgical dressings, explained the work of their several departments, each speaker receiving the closest attention from the members of Mill Run flourishing Red Cross unit, who were in attendance.

This auxiliary which now has a membership of 70 has been doing splendid work in hospital garment and knitting garment work. It is planned to establish classes in surgical dressings very shortly. As a measure of the auxiliary's interest in the street fair held here last week, the sum of $100 was raised and given to the Connellsville visitors with instructions to turn over to the treasurer of the fair committee. At the same time $70, representing the membership dues of the unit was also turned over to the Connellsville branch.

The work of this active energetic band of workers has been under the general direction of Mrs. F. A. Schorbert, chairman. Mrs. Irwin Mountain, secretary, and Mrs. Cosy May treasurer.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

Ship Which Had Been Used as Transport Is Sent Down.

NEW YORK Sept. 11.—The British passenger steamship Mississippi, 12,469 tons gross register and in the service of the British Admiralty as a troop transport has been sunk by a submarine in European waters according to information brought here by passengers on a ship which recently sailed from a British port.

The Mississippi which had been carrying American soldiers and army supplies was returning to an American port. The vessel carried a crew of about 200 and was in command of Captain William Hains on her last outward voyage.

LIFT RESCUING CHILD.

Mrs. Thomas Guard of South Connellsville Injured in Eye.

While rescuing William Alexander, one year and six months old, Mrs. Thomas Guard of South Connellsville was painfully injured when a stick in the hands of the Alexander child, struck her in the eye.

The little fellow accidentally fell into a hole five feet deep, and half filled with water near the Guard home. Mrs. Guard heard the screams of the child and ran to his rescue.

TROOP SHIP WITH
2,800 AMERICANS
ON BOARD IS HIT

One Transport in Large Convoy Is Victim of Submarine
Torpedo.

By Associated Press

LONDON Sept. 11.—A troop ship with 2,800 American soldiers on board has been torpedoed. All hands were saved. The troop ship was beached in order to save time instead of launching the boats the men clambered down ropes to destroyers which swarmed around the stricken vessel and came close alongside.

This operation was greatly facilitated by the fact that the sea was not rough. Several soldiers told the Associated Press that they saw a German submarine lifted clear out of the water after one of the depth bombs exploded and then entirely disappeared.

Something had gone wrong with the troop ship's engine which compelled her for a time to lag behind the rest of the convoy but the trouble had been fixed and she was fast catching up with the other transports when a torpedo hit her just forward of the engine room.

The troop ship was a member of a large convoy approaching the English coast. The vessel was torpedoed 200 miles from shore at 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

The transfer of the American soldiers from the stricken vessel to torpedoed British and American transport boats destroyers was quickly made without injury to anyone.

They all escaped injury when the torpedo exploded and were soon on their way to a British port.

JEWISH CONGREGATION CONTRIBUTES $650 TO
RED CROSS FAIR FUND

Inable to Have a Booth in Last Week's Fair, Big Donation Is Made.

Inable to have a booth and participate in the Red Cross fair on account of the Jewish New Year, the Jewish congregations responded liberally to the call of the committee composed of S. M. Goodman, Alfred Koback, E. Horowitz and M. Levine at their services New Year's day. Over $650 was subscribed and owing to the holiday lasting until sundown the committee announced that the money would be collected at the synagogue from 8 to 10 o'clock. Practically all of the money was in the hands of the committee by 8:30 o'clock.

In an appeal made by E. Horowitz he described the work of the Red Cross and the part it is taking in the war. The religious meeting was turned into a patriotic meeting for the time being. Mr. Horowitz closed his remarks by comparing the Red Cross to the trumpet which is blown on New Year's day as a warning to the evil Satan which he says the Red Cross is to the most dangerous.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN
ISSUES STATEMENT
ON FAIR PROCEEDS

Kurtz Says Executive Committees Agreed to Put All in One Treasury.

ONLY A RECENT DECISION

Agreement Made Not Long Ago at Meeting of the Executive Committee of Fayette County Chapter to Equalize the Work of the Branches.

J. Fred Kurtz, chairman of the Fayette County Chapter of the American Red Cross today issued the following statement regarding the retention of the money raised in the street fair here last week by the Connellsville branch.

Like the proverbial fly in the ointment the question as to the disposition of the money raised at the Connellsville Red Cross Fair last week has arisen to plague the good people of the community which is unfortunate and regrettable to the last degree for instead of worry and argument at this time they are entitled to rest and praise for their magnificent performance.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Fayette county chapter a majority of that body of old and all money now on hand or to be raised hereafter by branches and auxiliaries, from whatever source or in any manner be turned into the county organization from which general fund the needs of the entire county would be cared for. This decision was not reached easily by the executive committee but only after long discussion and careful consideration of the points involved. It is a matter of hard fact that some committees are rich in money and poor in the number of Red Cross workers while other sections have a large number of eager, earnest, loyal workers but little or no money to carry on the work.

This condition then was one of the most important to be improved and corrected by the consolidation of all Red Cross activities in the county into one large chapter.

"Division headquarters laid special stress on the importance of equalizing the work and speeding it up and it has now become possible through the funds raised being available in a common fund, to keep each section and district in the county employed on Red Cross work to their full capacity where heretofore under the old conditions many communities were ready and willing to work could not because they lacked supplies and money for purchasing them while other much wealthier districts had more money in their treasuries than they could use for the purpose raised. Consequently the putting of all money raised into one fund has made it possible to correct this fault greatly increase the work turned out, and organize and start to work certain sparsely settled districts of small wealth that otherwise would not be able to work without this financial assistance."

It requires a great faith and a broad vision to see just how the greatest good can be done for the Red Cross work and sometimes his greatest good can be accomplished by self-sacrifice coupled with active work for the cause. There are good arguments both for and against each community holding and spending money raised for Red Cross work. To be allowed to retain such money adds interest, pep and snap and ginger to the effort to secure it. If compelled to turn it over for general use it largely takes away the incentive for initiative.

TRAINING COURSE

To be Explained to Young Men at the Christian Church This Evening.

J. Walter Carpenter, special agent of Bethany college, will be at the Christian church this evening at 8 o'clock to explain to young men of 15 to 21 the details of the plan by which they can secure a college education with all expenses paid and a salary of $30 per month given them through enlistment in the Students Army Training Corps.

The annual convention of the West part does not apply to Bethany but to all colleges that have established this course of instruction where an education can be secured while the students are preparing for service in the army or for entrance to the officers' training schools.

The pupils will be taken through the building and assigned to their rooms. It is imperative that every student be present tomorrow morning to avoid confusion on Monday, when the schools open.

CUNEO WRITES OF
HUNT FOR ESCAPED
GERMAN PRISONERS

Letter From Soldier in France Says
Hans Frickel Had of War in Four Months.

A letter to Mrs. A. Cuneo from Private F. J. Cuneo 446th Detachment Engineers says:

"They sure put a big kink in the Hun. I wish some of you people could come over and see some of the Hunns that were captured from 14 years up. The most of them are very young. Some of our fellows here spoke German and asked one what he thought, and do you know what that German said? He said in English just as plain as you or I, that the war would be over in four months. He said the people are starving and all they get to eat is bread made from potatoes and as hard and black as coal. And from some kind of soup made from some kind of meat."

The Americans bring in here every day thousands after thousands recently captured. They bring them here and of course brand them on their little green suits with this mark 'P. W.' in big white letters meaning prisoners of war.

The other night four of them got loose down the road about 20 miles and the French saw them get aboard a coal train coming this way so they wired ahead telling us to watch for the train when it came through. Well I wish you could have been here. The train came rolling in on a very dark night (just our luck) so eight of us split up and boarded the train in different places. I crawled from one car to another with a rusty rifle that I believe was through the Spanish-American war and a bayonet hanging it down in the coal here and there and believe me if I had seen Mr. Dutchman he would have been the full length of the rusty bayonet. We searched the train from top to bottom but no luck. Just last night we received another description of the Hunns and I heard tonight that Mr. Hun was resting under five feet of earth. Gee we sure have some excellent news now and then. If I had met Mr. Hun on the way down that dark road I suppose the only way that I would have gotten him would be by running over him. I didn't even have as much as a piece of Irish corn (fetti) (a brick). This side of the water is no place for a coward."

German Counter Attack in Region of Ecourt-St. Quentin Repulsed.

RUSSIAN CITY IS BURNING

Word Reaching Washington Is to Effect That Petrograd Is Burning in Several Places and That Many Ci-zens Are Being Slaughtered.

By Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. 11.—During last night the British line was advanced slightly in the region of Verdun, northwest of St. Quentin. Field Marshal Haig reported in his official statement today.

The Germans delivered a counter attack in the region of Point-St. Quentin. It was repulsed in stiff fighting.

There was sharp fighting also at Courmoulin. The Germans were beaten off except at one point where the British post remains in enemy possession.

PETROGRAD IS REPORTED TO BE IN FLAMES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—A dispatch for the American legation at Christiana today said reliable information had reached there that Petrograd was burning in twelve different places and that there was indiscriminate massacre of people in the streets.

Secretary Lansing in announcing receipt of the message said it did not indicate whether the massacre was organized or merely was a result of a general state of anarchy. There was nothing to show what part the Bolshevik authorities were playing in the situation.

FRENCH CAPTURE
VILLAGE OF TRAVESTY.

PARIS Sept. 11 (Havas).—The village of Travesty near the southern end of the main Hindenburg line has been captured by the French according to reports received here. If the French had held this town the important enemy position at LaFere a northern defense of the St. Gobain railway two miles south of Travesty will be virtually on flanked.

GERMAN RIFLE REGTS
TO GO TO THE FRONT

MUNSTER Sept. 11.—A German regiment the 25th munition at Cologne August 31, according to the Telegram.

An eye witness of the incident said that the soldiers on being ordered to leave Cologne for the western front refused to board a train. Another regiment was then ordered to force the refractory troops to enter the cars but they refused to fire on their comrades.

A detachment of Home Defense Guards composed of youths was then ordered to undertake the task and a fight followed in which 11 of the Defense Guard were killed and many others were wounded.

AMERICANS SUBJECTED TO HEAVY BOMBARDING

WITH THE AMERICAN TROOPS
IN FRANCE Sept. 10 5 p. m.—At 5:30 o'clock, his morning the Germans began a heavy artillery action on the American front lines in the Vosges region sending over some 200 projectiles from their mine throwers and a thousand heavy caliber shells. At 6:30 o'clock the enemy opened up a strong fire on the communication trenches. Reports from two observation stations were that 60 Germans were observed entering their own lines with wounded but no reports from the American front lines had been received at this hour. It seems probable that the raid which developed after the artillery fire was beaten off with casualties to the enemy.

FARMERS ENJOY FRUIT OF JUNE GARDENING.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN
FRANCE Sept. 11.—Vegetables planted by the French, cultivated by the Germans and gathered by the Americans were served at many American soldier messes during the first two weeks of August. After the initial south of France and the fields had been cleared of Germans when the American advanced north of the Marne had been cleared many vegetable trucks filled with the harvest of the garden in anticipation of enough vegetables to supply them all summer.

Trained on Railroad.
Charles Ruter of Vancos Mill employed on the Monaca, Pa. division of the Pennsylvania railroad was admitted to the Uniontown hospital recently suffering from injuries to his hand and arm and lacerations of the scalp suffered when run down by a freight train.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

The pageant "Democracy Triumphant" staged during the Red Cross fair and on Monday was a true interpretation of the spirit of the great convocation. It opened with "Humanity," represented by Maud Weaver and her happy children, Louise, Sonson, Elizabeth, Sonson, Betty, Thomas, Elizabeth Woods, Dorothy, Kurtz and Louise Morris. They were met by a sorrowful group, symbolic of suffering Europe, being taken away by a barbarian militaryism, represented by Luther Carroll and her unhappy children, Margaret Horwick, Roslyn Pryce, Edna Albright, Mary Francis, Kurtz, Helen Woods and Frances Marlette. These unhappy children of the war-stricken nations were contrasted with the joyful little ones of "Humanity." The chorus, led by Prof. J. L. Rodriguez, sang "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," "Humanity" was joined by "Justice," represented by Lorene Struble, and "Columbia," represented by Angela Strader. "Columbia" responds by offering the suffering peoples her resources—money, food, armament, loving service, and lastly her own sons who were represented by a United States marine and soldiers, Lieutenants Buttermore and Sellers, Sergeant Tyrer and Sailor Neilson E. Harmon, taking the parts.

Then came the heralds of the allied nations announcing with joyous notes the coming of the hope of the world. "Democracy Triumphant," represented by Mrs. Ada May Hanam Shultz, comes bathed in the white light of her high purpose, bringing to the little peoples as well as to the great nations the fulfillment of Lincoln's words—"Government of the people, for the people, by the people." Then giving to God the glory, the chorus joining in singing the "Te Deum." "Columbia's" resources grouped in semi-circle form a rainbow, the arc of hope and promise which the nations lift on high.

The climax was reached when "Freedom" unfurled her flag and the hundreds of people joined in the chorus in "The Star Spangled Banner." Much praise in the course of the cast for their wonderful work. Miss Alpha Burkart of Pittsburg, staged it, giving her services to the American Red Cross free; to Prof. J. L. Rodriguez, Pittsburg, director of the chorus also donated his service and expenses; to Mrs. P. G. Dick, the pianist, and Prof. John Kiferle, with his orchestra; to George P. Stouffer, who so untiringly arranged the lawn each evening and to P. L. Weimer, who displayed his patriotism by placing the piano each evening.

Intense interest was manifested in the ticket contest. The "Army," in charge of "Major" Ada May Shultz, leader, having sold 3,063 tickets. "Navy" in charge of "Admiral" Biscel followed, very closely with 2,795 tickets. For each 100 tickets the business girls sold Mrs. J. French-Kerr was to sell tickets or solicit money equivalent to 20 tickets. The following contributions were secured: Rockwell Marlette, $5; E. Dunn, $5; C. C. Grey, $5; Mrs. A. J. Templeton, $5; J. Fred Kurtz, $5; W. L. Rice, $5; Mayor Daggan, $10; H. O. Keagy, $5; E. W. Horner, $5; A. C. Sidel, $5; Mrs. W. E. Rice, $5; J. C. Moore, $5; Mrs. J. M. Grey, $5; G. S. Albrecht, $5; Ross Lytle, $2; W. E. Congdon, $1; Hoover & Bailey, $10; E. Schenck, $5; Harry Dunn, $5; H. M. Kephart, $5; Mrs. S. J. Hurry, $5; Dr. and Mrs. Cochran, $5; Miss Nora Shallenberger, $5; W. D. McGinnis, $5; C. C. Mitchell, $3; W. P. Schenck, $5; John Sharrard, $5; Hazel Ketter Peden, $5; Red Cross friend, $50.

Miss Elka Decker leads in the individual ticket sales, disposing of 200. A dance will be given Friday night at the Colonial Inn by the Golden Circle club. The hours are from 8.30 to 1 o'clock. Kiferle's orchestra will play.

All babies registered in the baby show conducted in connection with the Red Cross street fair, are requested to be at the Maccabee hall tonight at 8 o'clock, at which time a picture of the group will be taken. Tonight at 7.30 o'clock the prizes in the contest will be awarded at J. W. McClaren's store.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Circle, No. 100, to the Grand Army of the Republic, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in Odd Fellows' hall. All members are requested to attend.

The regular meeting of the Protected Home Circle was held last evening in the Maccabee hall. One new member was added to the membership which is rapidly increasing. It was decided to heretofore provide a program, which will be interesting to old and young, at each meeting. At the next meeting an acrobatic social, at which prizes will be awarded to the winning contestants and masqueraders, will be held. Later a dance will be held. The degree team and other members of the Mount Pleasant circle were present and introduced a class of eight. Their excellent floor work was greeted with applause. Following the business session dancing was indulged in and refreshments were served. The local circle meets on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each week and friends of the members are invited to the social meetings.

PERSONALS.
Mrs. J. C. McCormick and son, Charles Howard McCormick, returned home last evening from a delightful stay at Waldmore Beach, near Erie. YOUR FALL INCOME.
Form the Habit of Saving by Having a Bank Account.

Those who reap the largest harvest in the Fall, ought to have the largest bank account. But the man who has had only a moderate degree of success this season should look forward to a larger income next year. This can be brought about by having a bank account which will enable the depositor to provide for the expense of planting time. Take advantage of the present to provide for the future. Annual Gathering Convenes in Uniontown Tomorrow.

The annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Fayette county will convene tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Asbury Methodist church, Uniontown, and will close Friday noon.

The session tomorrow afternoon will open at 1.30 o'clock and will be featured by an address by Rev. E. A. Hendall of Uniontown. In the evening at 8 o'clock Mrs. Ella George, state president, will deliver an address.

SMITHFIELD, Sept. 11.—Thieves visited the borough again Monday night. This time they operated near the Balmore & Ohio station, where they entered three places, J. P. Hardin's pool room and restaurant, Dora Breakiron's store and David Pirl's barber shop. They got about $4 from Hardin's cash register after breaking it to pieces.

From Miss Breakiron's store, which is in the same building, they took a small amount of cash, groceries, cigars, drygoods, hosiery and underwear. They got nothing from Pirl's, but did a great amount of damage, breaking his case, using a crowbar for the purpose. The same implement was used in breaking Hardin's cash register. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

GOES TO INDIAN.
Mr. and Mrs. Jerome McCormick of Fayette street, will leave tonight for Reelsville, Ind., to see the former's mother, Mrs. Ellen McCormick, who is critically ill. Mrs. McCormick is in her 88th year and it is feared her illness will prove fatal. She is a former well-known Connelville resident. Her husband, William C. McCormick, died two years ago.

sections of the county can be kept working through the use of some of the money it has raised, that otherwise would have to cease their activities, I am quite sure, in this instance, as in all others in the past, she will put patriotism and loyalty before pride and selfishness, and do the thing, whatever that may be, that will result in the greatest good for the Red Cross work. Such a condition does not exist just now, for but a comparatively small part of the money realized for county work in the last War Fund drive in May has been used. But looking at the future, it was deemed advisable to ask each branch and auxiliary to turn into the county treasury all of its funds, no matter where, when, or how raised, and to see that such amount was properly credited on the county books to the unit turning over same. This money would then be available for their use just as if it had been retained locally. By the adoption of this method, the bookkeeping of the county would be simplified, the funds kept concentrated, the money used where it would actually do the most good, and the entire program simplified and improved.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN ISSUES STATEMENT ON FAIR FUNDS

The officials of the Fayette County Chapter are striving earnestly and working hard to do all possible to make the Red Cross work in this county among the best in the country, and the Connelville Branch can rest easy in the knowledge and belief that no obstacle will be placed in its path, or no demands made, that will handicap its splendid progress or place a damper on the wonderful enthusiasm of its workers.

"The greater good for the greatest number is the aim of these county officials and it was with the idea of creating a condition that would be uniformly fair and beneficial to Connelville and all the other working units of the county that the decision mentioned was reached. If this decision will operate harmoniously, it should be revoked; if it is to the benefit of all concerned, it should be allowed to stand. Whatever is finally decided, there is not the slightest doubt in our minds but that Connelville Branch and her auxiliaries will be among the first to endorse any movement that will result in the greatest good for the Red Cross work and the winning of the war.

"This matter, both specifically and generally, will at once be brought to the attention of Red Cross headquarters, and their advice and recommendations sought in regard to the best solution of the problem."

Fountain of Youth.
It is not a myth, but a reality and women may find it in perfect functional health. Women who want to grow old gracefully should guard against all organic weakness and degeneration, and at the first symptom of such conditions resort to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, nature's own root and herb remedy, to restore health. For three generations women of America have depended upon this successful remedy and have found no other medicine to equal it. Adv.

Give Dinner for Son.
Mr. and Mrs. Michael Maglieri gave a dinner at their home at Scottsdale in honor of their son, Vincent Joseph Maglieri, who went to Pittsburg today for examination to enter the navy. He enlisted two months ago and just received orders to report for duty.

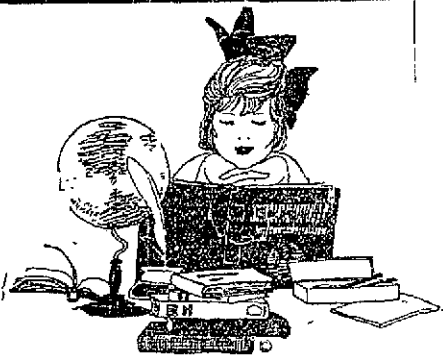

The dinner was attended by many friends of the young soldier from Scottsdale and Connelville, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bernardo being among the guests from here.

Marriage Announced.
Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Gladys Pearl Lunt and Merrill McKinley Shultz, both of Somerset, solemnized August 28 in Cumberland. Mr. Shultz was one of a number of draftees who left Rockwood last Friday for Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va.

were read by the ladies. The following delegates to the state convention were elected: Mrs. W. W. Elcher,
Mrs. J. E. Steelsmith, alternate, Mrs.
J. H. Pabel. This will be held in Reading, October 3 to 8. The report of the county convention was given by Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Reynolds,
Mrs. Steelsmith, Mrs. Pabel and Mrs.
Burtsheld. The next county convention will be held in Scottdale next September. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Pabel, assisted by her daughters, and a very pleasant social hour was held.

A MOTHER PROVES THE CLAIMS OF TEN HERBS MAN

Pittsburg Lady Tells How Ten-Herbs
Restored Her Son to Good Health.

HAD BAD STOMACH TROUBLE.

Among the many local people who are endorsing Ten-Herbs, the new herbal stomach remedy, is the mother of one of Pittsburg's prominent athletic young men.

MRS. JENNIE COOK

Mrs. Jennie Cook, of No. 6216 Butler street, Pittsburg, who has a wide acquaintance in this city, is glad to tell how her son was relieved, and relates the following interesting story:
"My son, who has been very prominent in all out-door sports, was troubled with his stomach for some time;
he could not digest his food, and it fermented in his stomach and caused gas to form; he was badly run down in health and tried many different medicines, which did not do him any good. He was advised to try Ten-Herbs and did so. Now he is feeling fine, and it has relieved his stomach and he is able to digest his food. He has been able to resume his athletic sports again, as well as his daily work, and I join with him in endorsing Ten-Herbs."

Ten-Herbs is purely vegetable and is composed of the most beneficial herbs, roots, barks and berries known to science. It is pure and harmless, and can be taken by both old and young with perfect safety. In all of the stomach, liver and kidney troubles, Ten-Herbs is sold in Connelsville at the Connelville Drug Co.'s store.

LET THIS CREAM CURE YOUR PIMPLES

For several weeks past A. A. Clarke done a big business in selling Hokara, the skin healer that has won so many friends in Connelville.

It has been found to heal not only all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but also the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There is yet to be found the skin or mucus membrane that Hokara does not help, and its action is so quick that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince everyone of its merits, A. A. Clarke will sell a liberal-sized jar for 35c.
And remember if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.—Adv.

OUR SECOND HONOR ROLL.

Tomorrow will be another strikingly significant day in the history of our country. Under the provisions of the new selective service law all men between the ages of 18 and 45 who have not registered under the first law, will be required to register. It is estimated that approximately 13,000,000 men will answer the summons to enroll the man-power of the nation.

What a rebuke to the pretensions and bluffs of the Prussian war-lords will be the marshaling of this host! It will be nothing in so concrete a form of our unchanging determination to wage the fight in behalf of Christianity and Civilization "with force, without stint or limit," that new sensations of terror and fear will be experienced by the unhung ruffians of the Potsdam gang. From professing to despise our "raw, untrained troops," which met and vanquished the flower of the German army, the Kaiser has come to a realization of the fact that America is to be the deciding factor in the war and that the decision will be one that will not be considered as inconclusive until the Prussian barbarians are driven back across the Rhine and forced to accept unconditional surrender as the first requisite to a cessation of hostilities and a peace in which they shall have no voice or part except as "witnesses from a culprit's cage."

Who would not envy the high honor and imperishable glory that will come to the men who will have a part in encompassing the defeat of the arch-enemies of the human race and free government, and in assisting to usher in the dawn of a universal and enduring peace?

To be one of these favored sons of men is the possibility that lies before those who will tomorrow signify their willingness to serve in the greatest cause for which any nation ever drew the sword. Can any man, in whose veins there is a single drop of the blood that stirred the men of preceding generations to espouse the principles for which our nation has stood from the beginning, allow a doubt as to his duty and high privilege to possess him for a moment? Or can those who have descended from those who have made America their adopted country, and since lived under the beneficent influences of our free institutions, hesitate a moment as to what they should do?

We think not, but rather will the day appeal to real men as a challenge for them to show that they stand four-square on the propositions that autocracy shall be forever banished from the governments of the earth so that other peoples, like ourselves, may be permitted to enjoy the blessings of liberty, and that the assassins-at-large, such as the Germans have proven themselves to be, shall be made to pay the penalty of their misdeeds.

Some weak, vacillating, spineless souls will lack the courage to heed the mandate of the law to register. Others in their craftiness will seek to evade it. Still others will have the hardihood to defy it. All such will enjoy but temporary release from the obligations to be incurred by registration. The machinery for the detection and apprehension of draft slackers is running smoothly and it can and will reach out into the remotest places to bring delinquents to account. Their induction into the service will speedily follow and there will forever rest upon them all the odium of having lacked the courage to respond to their country's call without compulsion.

There will, we believe, be comparatively few such cravens. Instead, the great body to whom the law applies, having already caught the spirit of service and sacrifice that is being fearlessly and unselfishly exemplified on the fields of France, will welcome the opportunity to write their names on our second great Honor Roll.

The final report of the last Red Cross fund campaign, showing Conneltsville's street fair has passed into history as the leader in its class.

The final offensive against the Hun will start tomorrow from the registration mobilization camps.

The Democratic papers jubilate over the results of the election in Maine with about the same enthusiasm that the Uniontown papers congratulate Conneltsville upon the success of the Red Cross street fair.

Any take the hard-earned street fair dollars to the county seat? Not by a justifiably honest, Peace and Honor with one accord respondent.

Council met one situation wisely and promptly when it appropriated money to erect a temporary Honor Roll for our boys in service.

The Kaiser will be even more concerned about tomorrow's registration than certain West Siders are concerned about just this morning's voters' registration days. That is some comparison, when you thoughtfully consider it.

It will be very much easier and vastly more creditable to register on the Honor Roll tomorrow than to later have your name erased from the roll of dishonor.

Jim Ham, the Giant Killer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(Special)—When Ellhu Root was in the Senate he seldom, if ever, was able to make a speech without bringing Senator "Ham" Lewis to his feet in reply. The disproportion in the mental calibre of the two men is grotesque, and the sudden exodus of Senators from the Chamber as soon as Lewis opened his mouth was a mute testimony to the value placed upon his remarks by his colleagues. Since Root has retired to private life Mr. Lewis has picked Senator Lodge as a foeman worthy of his steel, and Lewis never misses an opportunity to follow the Massachusetts senator when he concludes one of his masterful addresses.

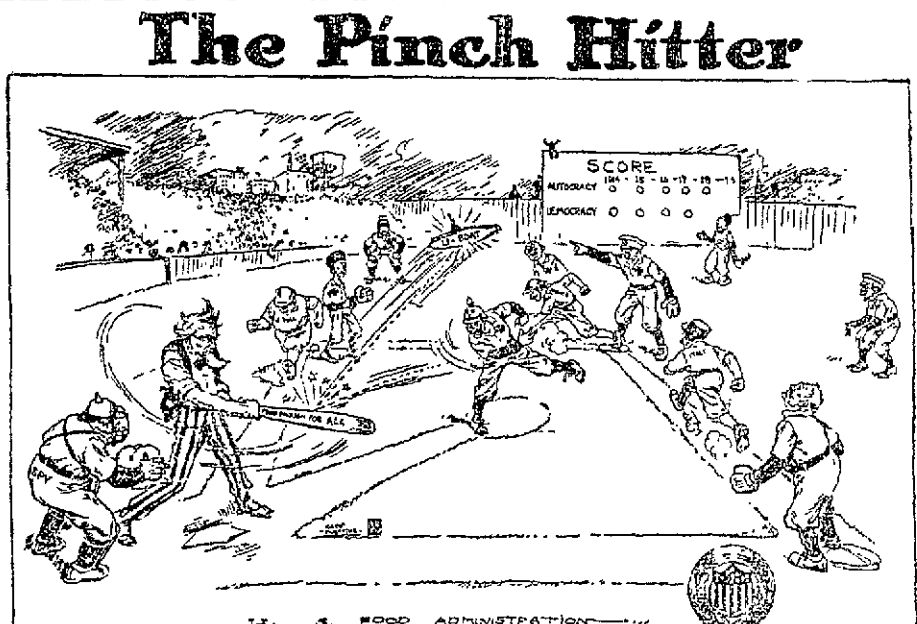

Unfortunately for Lewis he was in London when Lodge made his now famous speech of a few days ago in which he outlined the terms of an enduring peace. But "Jim Ham" applied himself to the cabined reports of Lodge's remarks, and lost no time to administer the customary rebuke. He states that peace between Germany and the United States is possible when the principles are conceded for which we entered the conflict, and it is nobody's business in this country to undertake to write down the details as to other conditions which may bring the war to a close.

Everybody knows that the United States entered the world war simply and solely because of the aggressions of Germany upon our right on the high seas, and her refusal to give any adequate assurance that those rights would be respected. But does any person think for a moment that this country would conclude a separate peace if Germany should now agree to our demands in that regard alone? Peace with America would be cheap indeed for Germany at that price. With the United States removed from the conduct the Huns could deal decisively with the Allies remaining on the battle front, and after a short rest, wreak vengeance on those rights would be respected. But does any person think for a moment that this country would conclude a separate peace if Germany should now agree to our demands in that regard alone? Peace with America would be cheap indeed for Germany at that price.

It was tightening of the American belt that made this hit possible. The game is won if we keep it up.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason.

DEATH IS COMMON.

So many men are lying down, that one more death cuts little grass; we lose some bulwark of the town, and hardly pause to say, "Amen!" It is an awkward time to croak, while war is kicking up its dirt; no man can leave a trail of smoke, these death-struck days, by ending in. Today we lost our mercurial prince, the owner of the Blue Front store; he's been our Big Man ever since he landed here, in '84. If he in times of peace had died, the village would have lost its breath, the groups of people would have cried, "You love a shining mark, O death!" And we'd have talked for days and weeks, about his merit or his flaw and looked on men as dreary freaks who did not speak his name with awe. A siffen banner we would fling half-masted over the city hall, and we'd have hired a band to spring the justly famous march in "Raid." Ah, my what is one merchant prince, when dead men strew the blood-stained globe? Who can the proper grief revive, or paw around and tear his robe? In his deep grave we'll lay him down with naught of pomp or circumstance, and then we'll hustle back to town, to hear the latest news from France.

Just Folks

Edgar A. Guest.

FOR THE CHILDREN OF THE FUTURE.

Somebody's children are going to laugh though mine today are sad. The world shall ring with their shouts of glee and dance to their music, glad. The twilight hours of the years to be, when the stars begin to shine, shall bear the old-time lullabies now lost to the tube of mine.

Green grass shall grow for the children, feet where the fires of war have aged, And crying mothers shall crouch at night by the side of a trundle bed; Though my babes came to a troubled world where lust and greed were strong, The little ones in the years to be shall come to a land of song.

And so I stand to my post by day as a pledge to the babes unborn That they shall come to a childhood fair and not to a world of pain; They shall know laughter and dance and song; by love shall their lips be kissed; And they shall claim, in the years to be, the joys that my own have missed.

GIVE INSIGHT TO CHARACTER

Shape of Eyebrows Reveal Vigor, Insincerity, Lack of Vitality, and Many Other Things.

It is now conceded that the Greek eyebrow is quite in accord with the conception of mere physical beauty in women. Like the rosebud mouth, it does not indicate the highest order of intelligence and the arch is expressive always of greater sensibility and greater sense of character, says London Tit-Bits.

Scant growth of the eyebrows invariably denotes lack of vitality; on the contrary, heavy, thick eyebrows indicate a strong constitution and great physical endurance. They are not beautiful on a woman's face, however much they may signify either mental or bodily vigor, and when they are not only heavy, but droop and meet at the nose, they are disagreeable and are said to accompany an insincere and prying nature.

Romantic women usually have a very well-defined arch in the center of the eyebrow, while a sense of humor is indicated in the arch nearer the nose. Long, drooping eyebrows, lying wide apart, indicate an amiable disposition. Where the eyebrows are lighter in color or thin the hair, the indications are lack of vitality and great sensitiveness. Fairly defined eyebrows placed high above the nose are signs of indolence and weakness.

Very black eyebrows give the face an intense and searching expression; when natural, they accompany a passionate temperament. Very light eyebrows rarely are seen on strongly intellectual faces, although the color of the eyebrows is not accepted simply as denoting lack of intelligence; the form gives the key to the faculties and their direction. Red eyebrows denote great fervor and ambition; brown, a medium between red and black.

Cultivate Self-Confidence.

Dress and self-confidence go hand in hand. Self-confidence is the motive power that turns the wheels of success. Self-confidence is the knowledge that you can and will do whatever you happen to undertake. If you are deficient in self-confidence, you cannot expect to inspire it in others.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS PLAY BASEBALL IN GAS MASKS, BUT NOT INCONVENIENCED

Not in the least inconvenienced, these American boys in training for the "big game over there" are playing ball in their gas masks.

Throughout the training camps in this country gas-mask drills and tests are held almost daily, and when the American boy gets overseas he can manipulate a gas mask to perfection and can adjust it just like the "old-timers." The usual time in adjusting a gas mask is six seconds, although after a little training it can be put into position in the twinkling of an eye.

GOOD FIELD AT HOG ISLAND

Model Athletic Park for Use of Employees—Baseball in Summer and Football in Winter.

The Hog Island shipyard, located a few miles outside of Philadelphia, is to include a model athletic field for use of employees. The athletic park will be enclosed by an eight-foot fence. It consists of twelve acres. The playing field proper will be located within the borders of a 550-yard cinder track, rectangular in shape, with rounded corners. It will be used for baseball in summer and football in winter. The field will also include grandstand, track and tennis sections and a dormitory for 2,000 men. A clubhouse will include gymnasium and auditorium, providing facilities for basketball, handball, boxing and lectures. Other features of the clubhouse will be shower baths, locker rooms and bowling alleys. An athletic association will be formed. The dues will be $1 a year.

TOLEDO TRACK GETS RECORD

First Ever Constructed to Have Mile Made Below Two-Minute Mark in First Heat.

The Toledo track, which was opened with the recent Grand Circuit light harness races, is the first ever constructed to have a mile below the two-minute mark the first heat record. Murphy established the mark with Miss Harris M. in 1:58.4, and as Ed Geers won the other two heats driving Single G. in 1:59.2 and 1:58.4, the first three-heat race in which the time was below two minutes was placed on record.

Sports Made Compulsory.

The United States navy has made swimming, boxing and wrestling compulsory for those enrolled in this branch of the service.

PUBLIC GOLF COURSES ARE FAVORED BY TAFT

Twenty years ago a rather robust person began playing golf. After having the idea at that time that golf was as absurd a game as was ever heard of, this person—ex-President William Howard Taft—now has the following to say about the game:

"I consider golf one of the greatest things that has come to man. Americans had been so long chasing the almighty dollar that their digestions were bad; their hair was getting so scarce and bald that the few hairs left should have been shaved off altogether. Physicians became alarmed at the condition of the modern business man. Since the introduction of golf we have given up business cares, but not business energy. The game has furnished a reason and a zest for existence. It is a God-send to the man from fifty to eighty years of age, and we should recognize its health values."

SUNDAY GAME ABROAD DRAWS 40,000 CROWD

Baseball not only has "caught on" in England, but also is being played there on Sundays. The Anglo-American Baseball club, which is operating at the Chelsea football grounds, Stamford Bridge, a suburb of London, has obtained permission to play Sunday games, with the result that huge crowds are turning out on the Sabbath. A recent game on the first day of the week attracted 40,000 spectators. The weekday games as a rule draw all the way from 10,000 to 20,000 persons. The teams are made up of American and Canadian soldiers, who are gradually teaching their English brothers how to play the game. The British government and war charities are receiving a large share of the gate receipts.

IS READY TO GO 'OVER THERE'

Manager Jack Hendricks Is Anxious to Go to France to Promote Game of Baseball.

Jack Hendricks, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, announces that he is anxious to go to France to promote baseball.

"All I want," said the manager of the Cards, "is to do my share for the boys."

Manager Jack Hendricks.

boys. I will go to France for any organization interested in the welfare of the soldiers."

When asked whether he would be willing to take a team of players to France to play a team of army men led by Johnny Evers, he declared "nothing would suit me better."

Crowder Was Overruled.

Provost Marshal General Crowder wanted to permit baseball to continue until the end of this season without molesting players on the work or fight order, but it is said he was overruled by the White House.

DIAMOND NOTES

Leslie Mann certainly has regained his batting eye.

The Yankees' good work has stirred up New York rooters.

Stuffy McInnis is not hitting in his old-time free-and-easy style.

Elmer Myers, the Athletics' pitcher, has been ordered to join the colors.

Flack is acquiring the habit of driving the ball over the right field fence.

Capt. Jim Scott has departed for Camp Lewis to become an army instructor.

Vincent Molynes, one of the Red Sox pitchers, is a product of Villanova college.

John McGraw admits that Bill Ryan, formerly Holy Cross pitcher, will be signed by the Giants.

Snooks McGaffigan's place at second base with the Phillies is being filled by a youngster named Pearce.

Burleigh Grimes has rounded into fine form and ought to win a lot of ball games for the Rubins this year.

Schalk is a picture behind the bat, the little fellow acting with the most grace of any catcher in the big circuits.

Heinie Zimmerman may be a slower man than Ed Collins, but his hitting helps the Giants win ball games.

Bob Fisher, formerly of the Cubs, Brooklyn, Reds and Pirates, is back in the league as the regular second baseman for the Cards.

American league clubs that are short of pitching talent are jealous of the surplus carried by the Browns and are bombarding Bobby Quinn with offers.

George McBride has been shortstop for many years without showing any signs of going back. He still can field and throw with the best of them.

Jack Daubert is showing flashes of his old-time slugging. There was a time a few seasons back when the Dodgers' first sacker was a whale with the stick.

Alton W. C. Ponder of Morgan, Okla., who has been awarded the war cross in France, is believed to be pitcher Ponder, formerly with the Pittsburgh club.

A Chicago writer chides Clark Griffith for including the names of George Du Mont and Ed Guarly among those Griffithmen serving Uncle Sam. Both players hopped early to a shipyard.

COACHES AT NAVAL ACADEMY

Notwithstanding That It Is War Time There Will Be No Lack of Competent Instructors.

The Naval academy at Annapolis will have no lack of coaches notwithstanding the fact that it is war time. Gilmour Dobie will direct football for the next two years; Billy Lush will coach both the baseball and basketball squads, and Joseph Mulligan will have charge of the track and field teams. Dick Glendon will be rowing instructor, while gymnastics, wrestling, fencing and swimming are in charge of skillful instructors.

NO BASEBALL IN CLEVELAND

Owner James Dunn Doesn't Believe in Near Major Leagues—Let Amateurs Have Field.

Unless James C. Dunn, owner of the Cleveland American league club, has a change of heart there will be no more major league baseball in Cleveland next year.

"I don't know what my colleagues think about continuing next year, but if I must build up a team of school boys and old men I will not open my gates. I am not in favor of minor league baseball in a big league town. We had better let the amateurs have the field to themselves until the war is over, when the game will come back to its own," Dunn said.

Football Player Is Killed.

Capt. Howard C. McCall, formerly a well-known football player of Pennsylvania university, has been killed in France.

HOME RUN HITTER IN DRAFT

Tom Daly, Who Poled Out Circuit Court in Presence of King George, Called to Colors.

Tom Daly, who achieved international distinction by smushing out a home run in the presence of King George of England, is among the new draft men at Camp Devens. Daly's hit came at a critical period of the game.

Catcher Tom Daly.

played before the king on the world tour of the New York Nationals and Chicago Americans in 1913-14. Daly recently left to join the Pure River team in the Shipbuilding league, but was called in the draft.

Dolo Pascher deserves praise for the brilliant playing he is supplying the Cubs. Not only is he shining in the outfield, but he is also behaving like a youngster on the bases.

BUT THAT WAS A LONG TIME AGO

By EDWINA

The Kaiser as I Knew Him For Fourteen Years

By ARTHUR N. DAVIS, D. D. S.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

The older people who had lived through the war of 1870 had interested audiences for once while they related past experiences and gave advice as to what preparations to make. A possibility of food shortage seemed to be uppermost in all minds, and the groceries were stocked with eager buyers. Salt suddenly jumped to 75 cents a pound and other things in proportion.

On Sunday, August 2, at the gasoline line in the country was commandeered, and we heard of many American tourists being put out of their cars in the cities and even on country roads, no matter how inaccessible to rains they might be. We accordingly decided to stow our car away in an old wagon shed attached to a hotel and sought to return to Berlin by train.

At the railway station there was such a tremendous crowd that it was quite impossible to get anywhere near the ticket office, and anyway no promise could be given as to trains to Berlin.

Trunks and bags were piled high in every available space and it was months before that enormous pile of baggage was finally sorted out.

We decided to defer our effort to reach Berlin until Monday, since there seemed no hope of getting away that day.

On Monday morning the streets were filled with excited crowds destroying every sign with a French word on it and looking for spies. The papers had announced that the country was full of French spies, women as well as men. I saw the crowd stop an automobile, take a woman out and literally tear her clothes to shreds before the police succeeded in rescuing her from the mob and took her to the police station. The general supposition was that all the men spies were masquerading as women and the first thing the mob did was to pull out hair pins to see whether the hair was real.

On Monday evening, we managed to elude our way into the last through train to Berlin. We were side-tracked innumerable times, to allow troop trains to pass through, and we were required to keep our windows closed so that no enemy passenger could drop bombs on the brakes we crossed. It was a hot August night and the lack of ventilation was most oppressive. Our compartment was crowded with officers on their way to join their regiments. I very grand and important they felt in their new military uniforms which may have long been put away in moth balls for just this opportunity, but which took the German people as well as the allies completely by surprise.

At Naumburg, which is about halfway between Frankfurt and Berlin, a company of soldiers boarded the train and guarded the corridors while a non-commissioned officer questioned the passengers.

My wife, who was asleep in a corner of the coupe, was the only woman in the compartment. Believing that her sleep might be disturbed and she might, in fact, be a man in woman's clothing, the officer yelled a her: "Where are you going?" For a woman, she replied, when she saw the soldier, she looked at him the more she felt disturbed and replied: "What right have you to use this train? Where is your passport?"

By that time I had produced all the papers of identification I could find and told her that I was a wife and I was as far as to my home in Berlin, but he was too excited to listen and would have dragged us off the train. I had not an officer with whom I had been talking on route, intervened and said: "I shall make myself personally responsible for these people." I was glad I had admitted his new uniform.

From the coupe next to ours I saw soldiers drag six Russians, throw them down and kick them in the face and one was a woman. The train pulled out as the crowd closed in on them so that I was unable to ascertain the fate of those innocent but helpless passengers.

When we finally reached Berlin, about five the next morning, it seemed like a dead city. There was not a drizzle, a taxi or a tram in sight. Every available means of locomotion had been mobilized for the time being. As we had heavy bags, we simply had to find something to take us home and after half an hour's search far from the station I found an old cab driver who thought he could take us to the liberal house I agreed to pay him. We had hardly got seated when an officer tried to force us out, and on my wife's quick plea of illness saved him a black eye and me from a large fine.

After England declared war, the efforts to capture spies were doubled, and the mob had a new lot of signs to tear down. We were forbidden to talk English on the telephone or on the street. We kept to our homes rather closely. Most of the buses, taxicabs and horses had been commandeered, and the only signs of life in Berlin were furnished by the officers driving manly about in high-powered cars which exceeded all speed limits and other traffic regulations.

After a few days things began to return to normal again. The food supply seemed ample and the headlines in the newspapers were so encouraging and the reports of victories upon victories so convincing that every one expected the war to be over within a very short time as they began to get up the stores they had so excitedly collected. Bread cards were initiated, it is true, but the amount allowed was more than adequate for all except, perhaps, the very poor who depend almost entirely upon bread.

The press began advising the people to conserve food but at the same time said that if care was taken there was no danger of there not being enough for all. School teachers gave daily talks to the children to eat everything on their plates. One went so far as to announce: "I always lick my plate, children, and you should do the same!"

The result of these warnings was merely to increase hoarding and buying from food speculators. I never knew of a single German who voluntarily deprived himself of a single article of food out of patriotic motives. The only sacrifice a German is willing to make for his country is the one he cannot escape.

As time went on and England's blockade became increasingly effective, the internal condition of Germany went from bad to worse, and long before I left Berlin, on January 22, 1918, conditions had become well-nigh unbearable.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Economic Situation in Germany.

By the spring of 1918, butter and meat had become extremely scarce in Berlin. My wife had remained in America, where she had accompanied me in the summer of 1915, and during her absence I dined at hotels and restaurants where the food was still rather good. In June, 1918, I left for America again and just as I was leaving meat cards were issued for the first time.

I returned to Berlin with my family in October, 1918. Conditions had changed considerably for the worse during the summer. I found that every one who had the money had bought up every available pound of food and soap which had not already been commandeered by the government. Butter, potatoes, eggs, milk, flour, sugar, soap, bread and meat and dry groceries were all rationed and it was now no longer necessary for women to stand in line in front of the shops, sometimes all night, to await the morning opening.

Shopping by the card system was very complicated and the quantities permitted by the ration cards so small that a well-balanced meal was an impossibility. To dine in a restaurant it was necessary to take a whole pocketful of cards and make a careful analysis of them before ordering the meager meal which the law allowed.

Empty boxes were used to decorate the depleted show windows of the shops. The fact that they were empty was not known to the public and very often the windows would be broken by hungry mobs who couldn't resist the sight of what appeared to be so much food. This led the government to order the shopkeepers to label the boxes: "Empty Boxes" in order to avert such disturbances and riots.

There was simply nothing to buy in the food line except substitutes, and of these there were hundreds, each worse than the last. The remark: "If things get much worse, we shall soon be eating rats as the Parisians did in 1870" brought the rejoinder: "Well, that wouldn't be so bad; what I'm dreading is the time when we shall have to be content with rat-substitute!"

When we finally had cards for coffee-substitute I gave up interest in substitutes and commenced to patronize the speculators. Finding that it was better to risk the penalties imposed by the law for such violations of the food regulations than to run our health through undernourishment.

For a long time we were permitted to receive "presents" of bacon, ham, sausages, eggs and butter from Denmark, but this was finally prohibited through the influence of the Central Economic Council (The Central Society for Buying Food From Other Countries) which found that it was interfering with their graft.

This society was formed by a company of clever Jewish business men to buy food from foreign countries and sell it to the people, a small percentage of the profits going to the government. It not only developed into a most successful enterprise from the standpoint of profit, its prosperity being augmented by graft, but it provided a haven for the slackers sons of the proprietors and stockholders. Just before I left Berlin, this company, to hide their war profits, bought a building for three million marks, which they claimed was needed for the business.

One of the subtleties resorted to by some of the war profiteers to conceal the extent of their gains and escape taxation was to invest their surplus earnings in works of art and other expensive luxuries. As the tax assessments were based principally upon the individual's bank deposits and the tax-collecting machinery was very much out of gear it was comparatively easy to evade the law by careful manipulation of one's bank account, and by dissuading profits received without having them go through the bank. A German whom I knew told me that he had disposed of an oil painting which had cost him $300 for no less than $85,000, the price of works of art and antiques having increased to a remarkable extent because of the demand for them from tax dodgers.

Under the stress of the changed food conditions the hungry German soon replaced the honest German. Germans had always had a reputation for honesty, but their claims to such distinction disappeared with the food supply. Necessity soon brought out all that was worst in the German character.

Although the government decreed a high fine and imprisonment as punishment for buying or selling anything which had been commandeered, speculators sprang up on every side and people bragged openly of what they had stolen away.

The worst deprivation was in the lack of fuel. The people showed it very plainly. One seldom saw a fat man or a fat woman, although before the war fatness was almost characteristic of the German physique. Indeed, I saw a rather stout woman being followed by at least twenty boys who were jeering at her and making stinging remarks about the manner in which she had retained her avoirdupois.

Insists That Frail, Nervous Women Can Speedily Become Strong and Vigorous

A Vigorous Healthy Body, Sparkling Eyes and Health-Colored Cheeks Come in Two Weeks, Says Discoverer of Bio-feron.

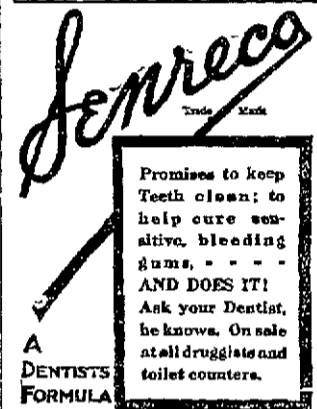

World's Grandest Health Builder Costs Nothing Unless It Gives to Women the Buoyant Health They Long for.

It is safe to say that right here in this big city are tens of thousands of weak, nervous, run-down, depressed women who in two weeks' time could make themselves so healthy, so attractive and so keen-minded that they would compel the admiration of all their friends.

The vital health building elements that these despondent women lack are all plentifully supplied in Bio-feron. If you are ambitious, crave success in life, want to have a healthy, vigorous body, clear skin and eyes that show no duleness, make up your mind to get a package of Bio-feron right away.

It costs but little and you can get an original package at any drugist anywhere. Take two tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—even a day for seven days—then one after meals till all are gone. Then if you don't feel twice as good, look twice as attractive and feel twice as strong as before you started, your money is waiting for you. It belongs to you, for the discoverer of Bio-feron doesn't want one penny of it unless it fulfills all claims.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feron. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycero-phosphate; Iron; Potassium; Magnesium; Peptonate; Ext. Nux. Vomica; Fowd. Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Oleoresin Capsicum; Kala.

A DENTISTS FORMULA

pois. A fat person in Germany today is regarded with suspicion.

Naturally the weakened condition of the people makes them all easily susceptible to disease. Epidemics spread rapidly and I am inclined to believe that little care was taken by the authorities to protect the older people from infection. I know that my secretary's mother fell and broke both her legs last summer (1917) and was taken to the accident ward of a hospital where her fellow-patients were all crippled. Ten of the inmates of that ward died in a single day from dysentery, and the following day the death list was increased by twelve, the old lady with the broken legs being one of them. Twenty-two more bread cards saved at the expense of twenty-two useless women in one hospital alone—a fair record for two days! I have no proof that these unfortunate victims of disease were deliberately infected by the hospital authorities, but the mere fact that twenty-two patients in an accident ward died from dysentery in two days is certainly evidence of gross carelessness if nothing worse.

To buy new clothes it is necessary to secure a certificate from the government to the effect that you are absolutely in need of clothing, and, even then, you are compelled to give up the suit you are discarding.

Branch offices for investigating the necessity of replenishing one's wardrobe have been established all over the cities and they are always crowded. Women are in charge and they seemed thoroughly to enjoy their authority and their power to deny an application for new clothing.

When I left Berlin the law permitted a man just two shirts, two collars, two pairs of socks, etc., a year. Since soap had disappeared from the market so many inadequate substitutes had been tried that one's laundry invariably came home full of holes.

In November, 1917, I paid $100 for a suit of clothes which if it had been made out of cloth of good quality would have been worth about $85. As it was, the tailor frankly admitted that the goods were made of re-worked yarn, and because of the lack of cotton thread, the seams were worked with a material which looked like paper string.

This paper string was in general use at that time, the department stores all displaying notices warning customers not to carry their parcels by the string. Many purchases were no longer wrapped, to save paper, and no purchases amounting to less than $5 was delivered.

Before I left Berlin, artificial silk was the principal fabric obtainable for ladies' wearing apparel. Almost every woman in the land, princess or maid, was attired in art tulle. It sold for $10 a yard. In normal times it would have been worth from 75 cents to $1. In the fall of 1917, a cloth suit was unobtainable for less than $300. It would have been worth $25 in normal times. All fur skins were needed for soldiers' wear and the few that were still obtainable for home use in the form of fur sets sold for $1,000 up.
